PROVO.

The gathering of the clans, viz., the reunion of the Johnson and Jones families at the First ward social hall on Thursday evening, passed off in splendid style. At about 8 o'clock the matrons and maids of both families began to gather, and from heavily laden baskets and hummers covered three long improvised tables with snow-white linen, and spread thereon a bountiful supply of victuals, in the providing of which some of the members are especially notable. The bands of these families were J. P. R. Johnson, S. S. and Albert Jones, and then came their numerous descendants and several invited guests.

After the report there was a recess for an hour, when the programme for the evening commenced. Music, prayer, a chorus of the male and female members led by Professor Bushard, and short addresses were the order of the evening.

S. S. Jones made the opening address, replete with congratulations and advice. Father J. P. R. Johnson, in happy vein, spoke to his numerous family and friends; also Mr. Neil Johnson. Among the honored guests were Apostle Reed Smoot, President David John, H. H. Cluff, Bishop Knutson, M. L. Pratt, J. Williams and William Holmes and their wives. All of these guests, in their felicitous remarks, indicated most plainly that should the works and doings of the Johnson and Jones families fail to be mentioned there would be some very serious and ugly gaps in the history of Provo.

William Holmes, in a very brief but witty speech, remarked that while both the heads of the families had done well, he thought he had done the most in the shortest time. The Johnson and Jones families had been in Provo nearly fifty years. He came about three years ago, at which time he did not have a relative in the state. He married into the Johnson family, and now he could count his relatives by the score.

At about 10 o'clock the seats were removed, and old and young engaged in the dance to the strains of Professor Zepher's band. A little after 12 o'clock the assembly dispersed, all feeling well paid for coming together.

A delightful surprise party was given Mrs. W. H. Ray Thursday evening by some of her friends, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of the lady's birth. The evening passed joyously with cards, games, readings, music and dancing. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames S. H. Belmont, W. H. Breckenridge, E. J. V. Vincent, J. H. Deubalter, C. F. Watkins, James Farrer, John E. Taylor, J. J. Peters, James Stubbs, James Chapman, George Venable, J. K. Hawk, S. G. Ray, John Warwick, John E. Bart, Jesse M. Smith, E. L. Jones, Eph. Homer, Mesdames Elizabeth Breerton, Rosella Graves, Misses Ethel Pay, Cora Sutton, Fawn Sutton, Lottie Redfield, Nora Redfield, Sarah Breerton, Mary E. Breerton, Messrs. Herman Grimm, George H. Chappell, Clark Ray, Rev. Charles Edgar Clay, Guy McDaniel, Jacob Haynes, Enoch Clark and Mr. Willmott.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Singleton entertained a number of friends at dinner Sunday, the seventh anniversary of the wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Singleton.

The boys of company G, N. G. U., gave a very successful ball Thursday evening in the Mozart pavilion. The hall was beautifully decorated, the attendance was large and the event was conceded to be one of the most enjoyable balls of the season.

Second Lieutenant Charles Forslund of company B has been with the national guard of Utah for the past ten years, with the exception of the time spent with the Utah volunteers in the Philippines. He enlisted in March, 1892, and remained until the Spanish-American war. After his return he was elected first lieutenant of company A. After serving with company A for a time he was elected second lieutenant of company B, which position he now holds.

The officers of these organizations stationed in Salt Lake met at the armory last Sunday afternoon to consider the advisability of organizing an officers' lyceum. After much discussion they came to the decision that it would be a good thing. Hereafter they will meet the last Sunday in each month at the officers' quarters in the armory. The senior officer present will preside at the meetings. Lieutenant Forslund of company B was elected recorder. At their first meeting Captain Greenwald of the signal corps will deliver a lecture on signal work.

Two recruits were voted into company F, stationed at Mantle, last Saturday night. They are John Tooth and Clarence Madison.

The signal corps turned out for its regular drill Thursday night almost full strength. After about an hour's hard drill the corps retired to the enlisted men's room to take action on the giving of a dance May 1.

A load of equipment was received by the quartermaster last week. The consignment consisted of blue shirts, chevrons, gauntlets and blue blouses.

Company H had a fair sized turnout last Tuesday night. The night was spent in practicing the bayonet exercises. Captain Coverdale put the company through the drill until all were perfectly willing to quit when recall was blown.

The following members of company C were granted discharges last Tuesday night: Privates Stansbury and Jensen.

Company B held a competitive drill last Wednesday night for a sergeant. After a hard fought contest the drill was awarded to Corporal Johnson. The hardest drilling was between Corporals Johnson and Dorsey.

A large squad of troopers from troop A turned out for mounted drill last Sunday. Captain Sommers took his men up into Emigration canyon and there gave them their first instructions in mounted tactics.

Sergeant Ray Booth of the High school cadet corps posted his name for enlistment in the signal corps last Thursday night.

George Rawley of company B applied to First Lieutenant Smetzer for a transfer to some other organization last Wednesday night.

The members of company F are highly elated over the new rifles which were received last week. They have created a new interest in the company, both in the members themselves and outsiders.

Sergeants Lawson and Paul of the signal corps took two squads from the corps for practice drill in the flash lanterns last night. Stations were taken upon two high buildings and communications carried on for about two hours.

It has not yet been decided at headquarters just how the blue flannel shirts will be issued. They may be issued to the men the same as the other equipment or else sold to the members at cost. The latter course will probably be adopted as being the better all around.

Non-commissioned officers' school was held by the signal corps last Tuesday evening, with First Lieutenant Skidmore in command. There was about one-third of the corps present and all put in the evening with hard drilling.

Corporal Duncan of company C has applied for discharge from the guard on account of leaving the state.

A special order was received from headquarters by company C last week. It provided for the forwarding of the headquarters of the names of the members of company C so that the adjutant general's office might notify the civil officials of who are exempt from poll tax.

Captain Sommers had a good turnout at drill last Wednesday night. The troop was delayed somewhat in getting ready to drill by the competitive drill held by company B, but when they did drill it was with enough energy to make up for lost time. It now looks as though the guard is to have a troop that will be a success. It has been tried several times and the prospects for a successful troop were never brighter.

Company B will hold another competitive drill next Wednesday night, the winner of which will be appointed a corporal. It has not yet been decided whether one or two corporals will be appointed, but in case two are appointed, the two last men on the floor will be appointed.

The hospital corps was put through a hard drill with the litter last Thursday night by Stewart Schmale. Corporal Kidder, a man weighing about 190 pounds, was carried around for about half an hour by the corps.

Dreadful Attacks of Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Ellen Harrison of 309 Park avenue, Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough, one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor, who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. Johnson, Pratt & Co.
